

BELMONT PRAISES COX' FIRM STAND

By Associated Press.

Columbus, July 18.—Sheriff John Anderson of Belmont county, who was unofficially reprimanded yesterday by Governor Cox for making only puny efforts to stop the rioting among coal miners near Bellaire, today made his first arrest since the trouble began a week ago. According to reports to the governor's office the sheriff took charge of five I. W. W.'s who were attacking caretakers and engineers of a mine near Stewartsville and lodged them in jail at St. Clairsville.

That there is no necessity for troops in Belmont county and that the main trouble in that vicinity is "a lack of civic consciousness," is the report Major Harold Bush, of the Ohio National Guards made to Governor Cox today on his return from that county where he made a careful survey of the situation, part of the time being incognito. At a meeting of citizens, miners and operators in Bellaire last night a resolution was passed commending Governor Cox for not sending troops into that section. But ten voted against this resolution, Major Bush said, and these he affirmed were cast by operators and attorneys.

That there was a plot to murder John Moore, president of the Ohio Miners Organization, George W. Savage, secretary-treasurer, Charles J. Albasin, president of sub-district No.

5 and Vice President William Roy, of that district, at a mass meeting Thursday afternoon was the statement of Major Bush. I. W. W. men were back of the plot, according to the major. Albasin left Belmont county as the result of the trouble, according to Bush, and Vice President Roy is the only mining official now in the county, according to advice received by the Ohio National Guard officer.

CITIZENS REFUSE TO GUARD MINES

By Associated Press.

Bellaire, O., July 18.—Sheriff John F. Anderson and fifty deputies were busy last night and early today guarding mine property on rumors that the I. W. W. had threatened to blow them up. No arrests were made. The sheriff and his men made the rounds of the mines in motor cars. The opinion was expressed here today that Sheriff Anderson would have difficulty in following the advice of Governor Cox in swearing in 300 deputies. Many citizens have declared that they will not serve if they are sworn in.

These pictures were taken during and after the battle of Zacatecas. One of them shows rebel artillery in action hurling shots at the federal fortifications on the hills surrounding the city. The marksmanship of the rebel gunners was far superior to that of the federals. The other picture shows a scene in one of the streets after the fighting ceased and the rebels had taken possession of the city. Dead bodies were strewn all over.

REBS ARE GRINDING CHURCHES

By Associated Press.

Laredo, Texas, July 18.—The Constitutionalists' alleged attitude toward the Catholic church in Mexico has reached an unusual situation today in Nuevo-Laredo, Mexico, opposite here. Weddings, baptisms and funerals for Catholics either must be held without the customary religious services or else those services can be obtained only after great difficulty.

The Catholics are awaiting the outcome of an appeal to Carranza to change the situation. Catholic residents are without religious services and the only clerical services they can obtain are those of priests from the American side.

PEACE IS BIG OBJECT JUST NOW

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 18.—To demonstrate that the new provisional government in Mexico wishes to restore peace without further bloodshed, Francisco Carbajal, Huerta's successor, ordered the Federal forces to evacuate San Luis Potosi, one of the largest cities in central Mexico. General Carranza has sent a commission to Celaya to meet the three commissioners sent from Mexico City by Carbajal with authority to arrange for the transfer of authority to the Constitutionalists.

These advices were received today at the Mexican embassy, by Senator Jose Castellot, personal representative here of President Carbajal. Mr. Castellot said that since the Constitutional forces had arrived in front of San Luis Potosi and there might be difficulties in arranging a suspension of hostilities it was deemed more convenient to give the city to the Constitutionalists without conflict and manifest, at the same time, the willingness of the Carbajal government to arrange peace. He had received no definite information, however, as to whether the evacuation has occurred as yet.

The bill in its preamble specially refers to the 281,000 emigrants from Russia to America last year and also to the fact that $50,000,000 was remitted to Russia in 1913 by Russian subjects who have settled on the other side of the Atlantic. The bill provides for the establishment of a fund to assist emigrants in Russian ports and abroad.

BRITISH REFUSE HUERTA

Puerto, Mexico, July 18.—It was announced today that General Huerta had decided to depart from this port on board the German cruiser Dresden. General Blanquet, alone, will accompany him.

It is understood that the Dresden will proceed to Jamaica, but this is not official. None of the refugees will be accommodated on board the British cruiser Bristol, which has been utilized as a refugee my many of the fugitives here.

General Huerta and General Blanquet arose at 6 o'clock this morning in spite of the fact that work kept them up until after midnight. The former provisional president has not left his railroad car since his arrival here. During the latter part of the night General Huerta suffered a slight attack of indigestion and those about him this morning found him in an unamiable mood.

REBEL ATTITUDE WILL DECIDE IT

Uncle Sam May Yet Be Forced to

DIFFERENCES ARE DEVELOPING

United States Stands For Peaceful Occupation of Mexico City, Amnesty to Political Offenders, Respect For Rights of Foreigners and Recognition of Obligations of the Huerta Government.

Washington, July 18.—Wide differences of opinion between the administration at Washington and the Constitutionalists as to what will constitute a proper procedure on the part of the latter when they come into full power and responsibility in Mexico are already developing.

Upon the amenability of the Constitutionalists to the suggestions from Washington will depend whether or not the United States finally will be obliged to intervene in the southern republic. The loudly proclaimed intentions of the Constitutionalists to rule Mexico by military decree without a congress, to punish with death all those believed to have participated directly in the overthrow of Madero and his death, and finally to repudiate all the acts and obligations of the Huerta government, are the chief cause of the anxiety felt here since the retirement of President Huerta. It is now asserted by high administration officials that the United States must take a firm stand on these questions and compel the Constitutionalists to modify their program or else face the alternative of intervention.

The general attitude of the United States in favor of a peaceful occupation of Mexico City, of amnesty to political offenders and respect for the rights of foreign property owners and particularly for the Catholic clergy and their properties already has been pointed out to Carranza and his associates. No assurances whatever have been received in return, though Mr. Bryan has been given to understand that Carranza is entirely in favor of arranging with President Carbajal for a peaceful occupation of Mexico City, though this must be, the Constitutionalists assert, absolutely unconditional. It is predicted that soon the administration will find itself compelled to express views in the form of demands if the Constitutionalists do not abandon their present drastic program.

Dangerous Issue.

Carranza and his associates are almost daily reiterating their determination to adhere to the "plan of Guadalupe." This plan is based on the declarations that Huerta was a traitor and a usurper who overthrew the righteous and legal Madero government and that all who participated in these acts are enemies of Mexico and must be punished, and that all acts growing out of the overthrow of Madero are illegal and will not be recognized by the Constitutionalists.

But more threatening as a dangerous issue between the United States and the Constitutionalists than the fate of any Mexicans is the attitude of the revolutionists towards the acts and obligations of the Huerta government. The European governments already have let the United States government know that they will not submit to a general repudiation of financial and other obligations incurred by the Huerta government, which they recognized in perfect good faith. There is every indication that the United States will be compelled to insist firmly upon complete respect for all of the acts of the Huerta government which involve obligations to foreign interests.

HUERTA NOW WITH FAMILY

Puerto Mexico, July 18.—General Victoriano Huerta, accompanied by Sir Lionel Carden, and guarded by 8,500 of his faithful soldiers, arrived here after a leisurely journey from Tierra Blanca, in the state of Vera Cruz. Precautions were taken against bodies of revolutionists who might have heard of Huerta's departure from Mexico City.

The most amazing episode of the flight from the capital was the sojourn of the former dictator at Tierra Blanca. This town is the center of a district through which small bodies of Constitutionalists soldiers are constantly passing. Relying upon the prowess of his troops, Huerta passed the night there with no apparent concern for the possibilities of his risk.

Meanwhile Senora Huerta and the members of her family boarded the British cruiser Bristol, where they were offered every convenience that a warship can offer. Several members of the party spent the night on deck under the awnings. They seemed to enjoy their experience, and their only concern was over the delayed arrival of General Huerta.

Lying at anchor a short distance from the Bristol is the German cruiser Dresden, on which it is believed Huerta will take his leave. Jamaica is his rumored destination for the present.

VAST SUM INVOLVED

Minority Stockholders Sue Directors of the New Haven.

Boston, July 18.—A restitution suit, whereby minority stockholders seek to compel former and present directors to restore to the treasury of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company approximately $102,000,000 alleged to have been illegally used in building up the system, was begun in the supreme court here.

The complaint alleges that losses resulting from the acquisition of the Boston and Maine trolley and steamship properties by the New Haven amounted to $102,000,000, and that under the federal anti-trust act the New Haven company is entitled to recover from the defendants three times that sum, or $306,000,000. Judge Braley, before whom the action was brought, issued an order of notice, returnable next Friday, to show cause why a receiver, special master or other official should not be appointed in accordance with the bill of complaint.

The plaintiffs, who are trustees of the late Olen Bull Vaughan's estate, and own fifty shares of the capital stock, asked for a receiver to take possession of all claims in favor of the defendants, but not to interfere with the administration of the current affairs of the New Haven company.

DEFEAT GUARDS DESTROY MINES

Fort Smith, Ark., July 18.—After a pitched battle between several hundred striking coal miners and sympathizers and 100 guards stationed at the Prairie Creek mines of the Mammoth Vein Coal company, near Fort Smith, which ended in the rout of the guards, tipples of three mines were destroyed by fire and dynamite. The property damage is estimated at $200,000. So far as can be ascertained no one was killed or wounded in the fighting. The rioters held possession of the mines several hours, wrecking the plants with torch and explosives. The properties are deserted. Preparations are being made to send additional armed guards to the mines.

Hon. F. M. Marriott, Former Judge of Court of Appeals, Member of Constitutional Convention, and For Thirty-eight Years a Leading Lawyer, is a Prominent Democratic Candidate.

for membership on the bench of the supreme court of the state. The election in November for this office is on a nonpartisan ballot. At the primaries each party selects its own candidates.

Three candidates are soliciting the support of the Democratic voters of the state for the two nominations which are to be made. Judge J. Foster Wilkin of New Philadelphia, who has served the short term, is a candidate for renomination and re-election. He has made good, and undoubtedly will be renominated. For the place left vacant by the retirement of Judge John A. Schauck there are two candidates for nomination, Hon. Frank M. Marriott of Delaware and Hon. Phil Crow of Kenton.

As the success of the primary system in Ohio depends to no small extent upon the knowledge which the people, who are to exercise directly their power through it, obtain of the various candidates, space has here been granted to the candidacy of Mr. Marriott for the nomination.

New Kind of Conventions

The people of Ohio are going to try this year, for the first time in history, to do without the old fashioned, time honored political state conventions.

This year no political party—neither the democrats, the republicans, the progressives nor any other political party—will have the old kind of a state convention.

For a great many years the conventions, made up of delegates from the particular political subdivision, were the classic events of the campaign. From the county conventions on up the scale to the state conventions, the gathering of the party delegates in state conventions to nominate a state ticket and promulgate a platform embodying the principles of the party, was the banner event of the campaign.

This year, for the first time, the state ticket will be nominated by the party voters at the August primaries, leaving nothing for a state convention to do save build a platform upon which the candidates can stand, figuratively as well as literally speaking.

This year the several political parties will hold state conventions but they will not be the old fashioned kind where "the boys" from the four corners of the state gathered together and framed the whole thing up—ticket, platform and all—for the voters to accept or let alone as they saw fit at the November election.

The political leaders, with their ability to see into the future and calculate on results which certain conditions and certain acts would produce, a few years ago discovered that the party voters demanded a voice in the selection of the party candidates. Quick to turn their sails to meet the political winds the primary laws were enacted. At first those laws only related to county and district officers and the county and district conventions passed into history's discard.

But still the demand for more power to the party voters and less to the party leaders was insistent and finally the state wide primary law was enacted and the delegate state convention became the subject of reminiscence.

This year we are going to have a new fangled state convention. It will be composed of the candidates for office on the state ticket, except candidates for judges of the Supreme Court, candidates for member of the General Assembly, the members of the State Central Committee and the chairman of the several county committees.

The convention thus made up will announce the party platform, "view with alarm" the tendency of the opposing political parties, "point with pride" to the achievements of its own party and so on and so forth, all according to the well established political forms and precedents as of yore.

Some political leaders fear that the old enthusiasm will be lacking, that the spirit which the old conventions, when the opportunity to come near greatness and even touch elbows with great men was present, engendered will be lacking.

Perhaps it will.

Perhaps the local lights of small candle power in the several communities will not shine forth as brilliantly as they once did, but after all the people will have had more to say about the men who are to serve in public places and that is infinitely better.

The old time delegate conventions were fine institutions, for the politicians. They afforded a splendid opportunity and the politicians were not slow to avail themselves of that opportunity.

The state wide primary election laws afford an excellent opportunity for the people and if they are as quick to realize it and grasp that opportunity, the consideration which the people will receive will greatly exceed the loss sustained by the politicians and the country will not suffer in consequence.

Infinite Patience and Use of Much Time Necessary For Successful Mediation

By JOHN BARRETT, Director General Pan-American Union

IT IS MOST UNFORTUNATE THAT THERE SHOULD BE SUCH WIDESPREAD COMMENT AND OPINION THAT MEDIATION OF THE MEXICAN SITUATION IS DOOMED TO FAILURE, AND THIS IS DUE LARGELY TO THE FACT THAT THE MEDIATORS HAVE NOT IN THE SHORT SPACE OF A FEW WEEKS SUCCESSFULLY CONCLUDED THEIR LABORS. SUCH A GREAT PROBLEM, IT MUST BE REMEMBERED, REQUIRES ON THE PART OF BOTH MEDIATORS AND COMMISSIONERS CONSTANT AND DELIBERATE EXCHANGE OF VIEWS ON BOTH GENERAL FEATURES AND DETAILED POINTS OF A PROTOCOL OR AGREEMENT, BUT THIS CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED SUCCESSFULLY ONLY THROUGH THE EXERCISE OF INFINITE PATIENCE AND THE USE OF MUCH TIME.

It may be most difficult to find a man whom both sides will readily accept without any question, but certainly such a man exists, and I always believed that the mediators would be able to name him.

Poetry For Today

THE ANTIQUE—UP TO DATE.

She gazed at the tall old clock on the stair,

'Twas a relic of days long fled; A costly timepiece, a treasure rare. But lately purchased and placed up there,

"A quaint old gem!" she said.

"Did you stand in some old manor hall,

Where the firelight flickered red On polished floor and on carven wall. Where fell the shadows of ladies tall, And straightly stiff?" she said.

"Did you look perchance, on a winsome maid—

Alas, a century dead, Softly demure and sweetly staid, In a tortoise-shell comb and a gay brocade With a very short waist?" she said.

"Did you see her lover, a comely swain,

A-bending his stately head To touch her lips and to touch again Till her fair cheek warmed with a crimson stain? O quaint old gem!" she said.

"Ah, the wondrous pictures seen by you

In the days so long since bed!" But the tall old clock fetched a grin to view;

"I wonder what she would say if she knew

I was made last week?" it said. —London Globe.

DUELL AVERS WHITMAN DID

New York, July 18.—Charles H. Duell, Jr., told the story of his political relations with Charles S. Whitman and Colonel Roosevelt. He pictured Mr. Whitman as so eager to get Colonel Roosevelt's indorsement that he was even willing to sign anything that the colonel should write denouncing William Barnes and Charles F. Murphy. Duell says that he wrote, at Mr. Whitman's request, the draft of the proposed letter to the nonpartisan Whitman league inveighing against Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy. He says that he read the draft to Mr. Whitman, that Mr. Whitman read it himself, approved it unqualifiedly and said he would sign it if Mr. Roosevelt would agree to support him, or at least not to attack him. This is the letter which Mr. Whitman said he never saw or heard of. Mr. Duell says he himself initialed "C. S. W." on the copy which went to Oyster Bay, for identification purposes.

LINED WITH SPIDER WEBS.

One Has to Cut One's Way Through the Roads of Paraguay.

The roads of Paraguay are about five yards wide throughout, and the trees meet overhead at a height of some eighteen feet, thus forming a tunnel of very uniform dimensions. In the clear parts of the tunnel—that is, where it is not choked up with the giant nettle—it is full from roof to ground of enormous spiders' webs stretching clear across the road, the big trees usually being chosen as anchorages and the total clear span being thus more like eight yards than five.

The main cables or framework of the nets are composed of five or six strands of thick yellow web and are almost as strong as cotton thread. The rest of the net is made up of single and double strands of the same stout material, which is as sticky as it is strong. Every yard or so one of these nets extends across one's path, making it necessary to hold a cutlass or a fairly stout stick at arm's length in front as one walks.

The makers of these troublesome but picturesque obstructions are large, highly colored, gaudy looking spiders with bodies that look as if they were about to explode, they are so blown out and glossy.

At intervals in some more open space where the sky is visible one will notice a different kind of web, far more irregular in shape, but far larger than the others. Not content with the space available in the tunnel, these webs are stretched in complicated mazes from the ground to the very tops of the surrounding trees, with clear spans frequently twenty or thirty yards from one tree to another.

From these main cables smaller ones extend to the ground—a drop of fifteen or twenty yards—and the spaces in between are filled up with a mass of webs spun in all directions. —Wide World Magazine.

SIRIUS, THE DOG STAR.

It Was Given Its Canine Name by the Superstitious Egyptians.

The giant sun, the bright star Sirius, is now called the "dog star" from the very ancient and curious custom of personification. The great nations of remote antiquity personified every activity of nature—that is, compared them to living men or animals.

They didn't know a thing of any law of nature, so they said that motion is caused by living animals, because only animals have the inscrutably mysterious power of moving themselves. No wonder the ancients were astonished to see an animal move itself. And the wonder has vastly increased now, for the ablest scientific man cannot possibly see how an animal is able to move.

The overflowing of the Nile was the chief event in all of Egypt. Without this pouring of water over the land once each year, the valley would be a desert. The Egyptians at a certain period in their long history noticed that when they first saw the star Sirius early in the morning before sunrise the Nile river began to rise and pour over the banks. They personified Sirius as a watchdog, watching the sun and the Nile and the land of Egypt, its people, destiny and harvests.

The Egyptian name of the Nile was Sirls, and the faithful dog watching in the sky was finally named Sirius. Centuries later their horrible religion taught that it was necessary to murder or sacrifice a dog to the star Sirius to secure its aid in growing grains and herds. This terrible habit of slaughtering animals to propitiate imaginary gods descended to the Greeks and Romans. The Romans named the stars near Sirius the constellation Canis Major (the great dog)—New York American.

WEEK OF RARE PLEASURE ENJOYED BY EXCURSIONISTS

First Crowd of Dahl-Millikan Excursionists Arrive Safely Friday Evening After Week at Cedar Point And Lake Trip—Winners in Spirit—Contests—Next Excursion Leaves Monday Noon.

The three hundred guests of the first trip of the eighteenth annual outing of the Dahl-Millikan wholesale grocery company returned Friday afternoon in the highest spirits and so full of the pleasures of the outing and the varied features of their entertainment that all other subjects were thrust in the background.

"The finest trip I ever had" was heard on all sides and it certainly was a banner trip in every way. Success stamped itself upon the trip with a capital "S." From start to finish it was perfectly handled by the Dahl-Millikan management and every plan went through without a hitch. There was not an accident to mar, not a delay to upset arrangements, not a single drawback to a glorious good time.

The entire party voted the corps of expert Dahl-Millikan salesmen, B. A. Schadel, E. N. Holloway, Frank Perrell, Harry Green, Claude Clemmens, Frank Head, John Ferguson, P. J. Reeder, royal entertainers and "the boys" certainly outdid themselves to give their patrons a good time.

Everywhere the "bars were let down" for the individual who sported a Dahl-Millikan badge.

At the "Breakers" the Cedar Point mammoth hotel the management put forth every effort. One big dining room was reserved for the party and the meals were par excellence.

By the way patrons were inclined to boost the splendid dinner given by the Cherry Hotel before starting on the trip as one of the best of the entire trip.

Tuesday was made a gala day on the beautiful beach of Cedar Point, with the contest for members of the Dahl-Millikan party the big feature.

After much merry making and good natured rivalry the awards were made as follows:

1. Swimming match—Gentleman's umbrella, G. D. Hayes, city.
2. Walking match—silver souvenir spoon, Miss Roxie Channel, Melvin, O.
3. Duck Race—Fishing rod and reel, Dale Miller, Jeffersonville.
4. Distance Throw—Ladies' umbrella, Edna Peele, Sabina.
5. Hop, step and jump—Scarf pin, Frank Paye, Sabina.
6. Running broad jump—Gentleman's cug links, Roy Young, Jeffersonville.
7. Blindfold race, for ladies—Lavaller, Margaret Richards, Sabina.
8. Peanut race—Silver fork, Hazel Fenimore, Springfield.
9. Running race in water—Gentleman's coat watch chain, Howard Johnson, Orient.

10. Chicken race—Silver purse, Mrs. R. C. France, Springfield.

After the contest the official Cedar Point photographer took a picture 3½ feet long of the party with the winning contestants, in their bathing suits in the foreground, and entire D-M party in the background.

Wednesday was the beautiful all day boat trip to Detroit, with dinner and supper on the boat served personally by the Dahl-Millikan salesmen. The salesmen established a reputation in a new line in the role of waiters.

At Detroit the Dietrich Sight Seeing Co. took the party in tourists cars through the principal business and residence districts, Belle Isle, and the Water Works park.

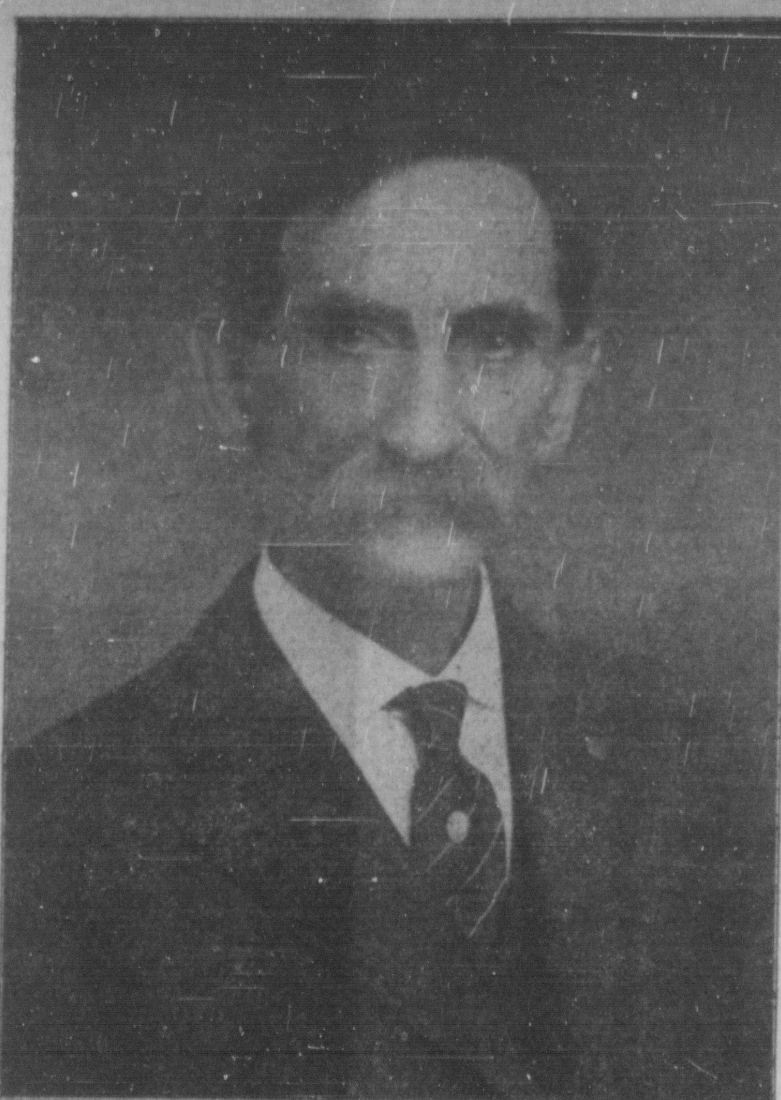

The moonlight ride back to Cedar Point was one of the delights of the trip.

Thursday was turned over to the attractions of various amusements of the popular resort, bathing, hydroplane flights, fire works, etc.

It was Sandusky home coming week and Sandusky outdid itself in welcome.

The guests of the outing voted as to their choice of destination for the next years trip and a large number voted to return to Cedar Point and the lakes.

The Dahl-Millikan management will give the guests of the second trip, starting Monday, as good a time as the guests of the first outing.

FRANK M. ALLEN.

Who Was This Afternoon Elected Head of the Public Schools of Fayette County.

FRANK M. ALLEN CHOSEN COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

Fayette County Board of Education At Session Held This Afternoon, Selects Head of Public Schools of the County. Wilson Morris Is Elected President of Board, and Frank Minnick Vice President—Five Applicants.

At a meeting of the County Board of Education Saturday afternoon Frank M. Allen was chosen from among a number of candidates for Superintendent of the schools of Fayette county, to take up the duties of the office with as little delay as possible.

The Board, consisting of Messrs W. E. Smith, Frank Minnick, Wilson Morris, Wesley Wilson and David Long, met at the court house at 1:30 o'clock and went into executive session. The result of their balloting on applicants for the office of County Superintendent of Schools was not announced until nearly three o'clock.

The selection of Mr. Allen as county superintendent marks the close of a quiet but hard fight which for several weeks has been in progress among the leading candidates for the office. The number of applicants who had their names on file with the board was five. The applicants were: Frank M. Allen, Oliver S. Nelson, J. W. Whiteside, T. F. Johnson and a man from Cleveland, Ohio, whose name was not learned.

Only one ballot was taken, Mr. Allen receiving three votes and Mr. Nelson two.

The new county superintendent is a graduate of Lebanon, and for 35 years has been actively associated with educational work in this county.

The Board organized as follows: Wilson Morris, President, and Frank Minnick Vice President.

FINAL CHAPTER IN DELPH CASE

East Monroe Girls Who Were With Orville Stookey When Arrested, Sent to Home For Girls in Cincinnati After Spending Two Months in Highland County Jail.

Velma and Elsie Delph, sweethearts of Orville Stookey, the youth who is now in the county jail on a charge of horse stealing, and who was with the two girls when arrested by Chief Moore, are now in the Missionary training home known as "God's Bible School" at Cincinnati. The two girls were taken to the Home a few days ago, after spending two or three months in the Highland county jail, where they were taken soon after their arrest at their home just over the line near East Monroe, in Highland county.

The charge placed against the girls at the time of their arrest, was keeping a house of ill fame. The house where they lived was a small one left them by their parents, who died a year or two ago, leaving the girls alone in the world. Two or three well known men of the East Monroe locality were arrested at the same time the girls were taken in custody. The orgies at the place for weeks before the girls were arrested had aroused the neighborhood.

The girls have expressed contentment at their new home in Cincinnati, where they will be taken care of.

When their jail sentences were about to expire, the house in which they lived was destroyed by fire one night, and it is presumed that the blaze was of incendiary origin, and that the person who applied the match did not wish to see the two girls return to the East Monroe neighborhood.

Young Stookey, at the time of his arrest, announced that he was to marry one of the Delph girls as soon as he was released from prison—which is now apparently in the very remote distance.

2,000 WITNESS AUTO RACES THIS AFTERNOON

E. M. F. Wins in 36 Minutes and 25 Seconds—Speedwell, Driven by Cline Finishes Second—No Accidents Mar the Races.

A crowd of nearly 2,000 people, including delegations from all over central Ohio, flocked to the Fair grounds this afternoon to witness the thrilling automobile and motorcycle races, all anxious to see the daredevil sport which has claimed so many lives in the past few years.

Automobile parties from all surrounding towns and cities joined the large crowd of local enthusiasts.

The motorcycle races were the first attraction on the program for the afternoon, and Glenn Roseboom won first prize, coming under the wire and completing the ten miles in 14 minutes and 45 seconds. Jack Ward was only 50 yards behind the winner, and the finish was exciting.

Five local speeders entered the contest, but Harold Counts did not finish owing to his machine going wrong in the second lap, and he withdrew. The others finished in the following order:

- First—Glenn Roseboom.
- Second—Jack Ward.
- Third—Willard Rowell.
- Fourth—Fred Ward.

In the automobile race only three cars entered, as follows: Marion—of Lancaster, driven by John Lynch of Columbus. Speedwell—Ralph Cline, of this city.

E. M. F.—Erway Briner, of Lancaster. These cars were given the word shortly before four o'clock, and were off like a flash.

Immediately following the getaway, the E. M. F. took the lead, followed by the Marion and Speedwell.

Breathlessly the crowd watched the machines whizz by and take the deadly turns at terrific speed, the cars at times skidding dangerously.

- The finish:—
- First—The E. M. F.
- Second—Speedwell.
- Third—Marion.

Best time: 36 minutes and 25 seconds. The entire purse goes to the winner.

TRIAL POSTPONED UNTIL TUESDAY

The trial of W. E. Maynard, which was first set for Friday afternoon, and later postponed until Saturday afternoon, has been postponed until Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, when he will face Mayor Coffey on a charge filed against him by the mother of little ten-year-old Lucy Snyder.

The man is still in the county jail and is looking for an attorney to represent him, and preparing for his defense.

Dug His Own Grave.

A gravedigger named James Hambleton was buried alive in a grave at St. Stephen's church yard, Audenshaw, Ashton-under-Lyne, the other day. He had been digging a grave and was getting out when he fell backward and a large portion of the sides collapsed upon him. A conductor on a passing tramcar who saw the man's legs in the air ran to the spot and found the gravedigger buried headforemost. The man had ceased to struggle and was dead when extricated.—London Times.

Circumstances are beyond the control of man, but his conduct is in his own power.—Broomont.

PARISIAN BEGGARS.

Clever Rogues Who Study the Weak Points of Their Victims.

An accomplished mendicant, like a clever salesman, studies his customers, discovers their weak points if he can and trades upon them. In this relation it is of interest to note the skillful methods whereby a certain class of Parisian beggars play upon the superstitions of their victims.

There is a common saying in France that giving alms brings good fortune, a saying that has not been overlooked by the Parisian beggar. If one visits the Sorbonne on the days of examination for the bachelor's degree he will see an interesting sight. The collegians approach, each with his dictionary under his arm, on his way to make the famous Latin version, on the success of which all his future depends. A crowd of beggars surround them.

"A son, monsieur; a morsel of bread," the beggar will say to a collegian. "It will bring you happiness."

The candidate hurries on. "You will be blackballed, monsieur," the beggar continues.

This sinister prediction always takes effect. The collegian pulls out his purse, and the beggar turns away, chuckling.

A similar scene may be witnessed at the Hotel de Ville on the days of examination for certificate of ability for teaching. When there are no examinations in progress there may be races, and to them go the beggars, for gamblers and sporting men are notoriously superstitious.—Washington Star.

WIGS, HOODS AND CAPS.

Shapes, Colors and Significance of Old Egyptian Headgear.

The reliefs and paintings on the walls of the tombs and temples of the Egyptians show that that race of people wore thick and elegant headdresses. Hats with brims were apparently unknown. Their headgear consisted of wigs, hoods and caps.

"The wigs were very likely made of hair or tow, for their great size could not have been made by dressing of a person's own hair; the caps were also very large and high and made of material which as to its kind can only be guessed at," says Charles E. Keeler in a history and development of hats and headgear.

"The largest were cupola shaped, and their use was probably confined," he further says, "to those of royal blood. They were yellow, white and red. It is supposed that the yellow ones were made of brass and were a kind of helmet, that the white was the crown of upper Egypt and the red the crown of lower Egypt. The pschent, a combination of the white and red, was considered as the symbol of the rule over the land. Lower flat crowned caps were worn both alone and over a hood, and sometimes with a strap under the chin to hold the headpiece in place. The huge wigs were probably worn upon the shaven heads, as it is supposed that the clean shaven head was as prevalent in Egypt as it is now in tropical Asia."

In Social Circles

"Brookside," the handsome Fitzgerald home, has frequently been the scene of social functions, but none more brilliant than the card party of Friday night, with which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald and Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Bradley entertained nearly a hundred guests.

The immense rooms, thrown together with wide openings, furnished perfect setting for the beautifully gowned women and were delightfully cool. Hospitality was rife and clusters of roses and sweet peas added beauty and delicate perfume.

The trophies in a splendid game were a bouquet of pink rose buds and a box of William Pen cigars, won by Miss Del Lanum and Mr. Frank L. Stutson.

Following the game an elaborate collation was served.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was charmingly cordial in an embroidered gown of white crepe. Mrs. Bradley was looking very handsome in turquoise blue charmeuse, with white shadow lace bodice.

Assisting in the hospitalities was the lively young daughter of the house, Miss Jean Fitzgerald, in a flounced gown of white shadow lace, with pale green satin girdle, and a bevy of her young friends, Misses Bessie Casey, Jeanette Weaver, Carrie Willis, Mary Alice Culhan, Jane Paul and Lora Ellen Tharp.

Many beautiful presents were highly appreciated. A dainty supper was served. Out of town guests included Messrs. Harold Stewart and Chester Murphy, Greenfield; Lyman Unger, Mt. Sterling; Robert Ervin, Bloomington.

The Pan Hellenic dance, at the K. of P. hall, proved one of the most pleasurable of society affairs in the younger set.

A gay coterie of fraternity fellows and pretty girls indulged in the light fantastic until a late hour.

Mr. Harry Brown of Columbus and Miss Workman of Decau, Ala., led the grand march. Excellent music was furnished by Young's stringed orchestra. The dance arrangements were well managed by Hugh Kennedy Harold Craig and Carl Reed.

VENERABLE FATHER OF REV. ROSS DEAD

A telegram received Saturday morning, by Mrs. Ross, from her husband, Rev. Frederick E. Ross, apprised her of the death of Mr. Ross' father, Rev. Archibald Ross, D. D., at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. Ross was at the bedside of his father when death occurred at 11:30 Friday night. The deceased 82 years of age, and in addition to having spent many years in the ministry, was the author of a number of books and for many years was a regular contributor to many of the leading magazines.

Funeral services will probably be held Sunday evening, and interment will be made in Brooklyn.

He had been ill for six weeks, and previous to his illness six weeks ago he was a man of unusually strong vitality.

North and Temple street sides, and the wall on the Paint street side is well under way.

Citizens who make frequent use of the sidewalks along the grounds, are hopeful that cement walks will supplant the badly worn brick walks on Temple and Paint streets opposite the central grounds, or at least the removal of earth sufficient to allow the water to run readily from the present walks.

"GOPHER" SMITH COMES UP MONDAY

"Gopher" Smith, the man with "winged heels," who is confined in the county jail, will face Mayor Coffey Monday on a charge of bootlegging and resisting an officer.

The authorities are seriously considering the advisability of turning the man over to the government officials, as it is claimed that he concocted the booze he is alleged to have given to two men recently arrested for intoxication.

If he is not turned over to the government agents, he will probably be returned to the Xenia workhouse, where he is a well known visitor, and from which institution he at one time escaped by watching his opportunity and running.

SEXTON HAS NARROW ESCAPE

While making the turn at the southeast corner of the race track about 10:30 Saturday morning Virgil Sexton, on his Indian motorcycle, was painfully but not seriously injured when his machine skidded and he was thrown with great force to the middle of the race course, while his machine turned twice over and landed almost uninjured near the outer fence.

Sexton, who is employed at the Postoffice, was going at 40 to 45 miles per hour and in endeavoring to make the turn the machine slid out from under him.

His worst injuries consisted of abrasions of the elbows and knees, and he probably owes his life to the fact that he was not hurled against the outside fence.

He was able to ride back to this city, and is now little the worse for his experience.

MEDIATION MAY SETTLE THE ROW

Engine Crews of Western Railroads Postpone Strike.

FEDERAL BOARD TO CONVE

Brotherhood Officials' Charge That Railroads Had Repudiated Arbitration Awards in the Past Is Denied by the Railroad Managers' Committee—Hearings to Begin at Chicago Next Monday.

Chicago, July 18.—Danger of a strike of the engine crews of western railroads was deferred when the representatives of the men accepted an offer of mediation by William L. Chambers, chairman of the federal board of mediation and conciliation. The meeting with the full board will begin here July 20.

The offer of mediation by Mr. Chambers came as the result of a request by A. W. Trenholm, chairman of the committee of general managers, which was made in spite of a formal announcement that the employees would decline to accept mediation. The latter charged that in the past the railroads had refused to abide by the findings of arbitration boards.

The following message of acceptance was sent by Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen:

"We have refused to join the managers' committee because we feared that it would be implied acceptance of arbitration. No one knows better than yourself and the other members of the federal board of mediation and conciliation the manner in which the railroads have repudiated arbitration awards. We recognize, however, that we can not afford to refuse your courteous proffer of your friendly offices, and therefore we accept the same. We believe it is unfair to ask us to wait more than four days before mediation begins, in view of the strained relations."

The railroad managers' committee, in a letter to the men, denied they had refused to abide by awards. The letter said: "We deny for them (the railroads) that they have either refused or failed to put into effect any arbitration award. In discussing this matter we not only guaranteed the good faith of the roads in putting into effect any awards which might follow our negotiations, but we suggested that a commission, permanent or otherwise, be established, so that all disagreements arising out of a misunderstanding or misapplication of an award might be speedily and amicably settled."

REBELS OCCUPY SAN LUIS POTOSI

El Paso, Tex., July 18.—Guaymas and San Luis Potosi were occupied by the Carranza forces, according to advices received in El Paso. The fall of San Luis Potosi leaves only Queretaro and Celaya as cities of importance to be taken by the Constitutionalists before reaching Mexico City, in the event that the campaign is to be carried on. However, the prospects are for the occupation of the City of Mexico without further fighting.

TROOPS CANNOT SERVE AS POLICE

Governor Cox Points Out Duty of Local Officials.

WRITES TO BELMONT SHERIFF

Says County Head Has Right to Call on Mayor's For Aid, Can Impress Citizens For Riot Service and Arrest Those Refusing to Obey—Soldiers Ready to Move When Conditions Are Complied With.

Columbus, July 18.—Governor Cox informed Sheriff John H. Anderson of Belmont county that it was not the province of the militia to serve as policemen in local communities.

This reply was made when the sheriff wired the chief executive that pumps and fans could not be kept going in the closed coal mines without the protection of the state militia. The governor, after ascertaining by telephone from the sheriff what the

THREE HURT

Urbana, O., July 18.—Samuel Groves was fatally injured, Mrs. Barbara Pence severely injured and Byron Pickering slightly hurt in an explosion at Rosewood, when an acetylene lighting plant exploded at the home of J. M. Barker, a Rosewood merchant.

ROB CORNERSTONE

Akron, O., July 18.—Vandals robbed the cornerstone of the new Willard Reformed church, which was laid last Sunday amid impressive services. To get to the contents the thieves had to remove a heavy marble slab and cut through a sheet of concrete.

PICKAWAY MAN UNDER ARREST

Circleville, O., July 18.—D. Ward Wolfe, wealthy farmer of Laureville, near here, was arrested by Sheriff Sheets after he had, it is alleged, set fire to his house. State Fire Marshal Deffenbach ordered him held until an investigation is made.

CHURCH FIRED

Syracuse, N. Y., July 18.—A severe lightning storm swept Syracuse. A bolt struck and fired the West Genesee street M. E. church, and while this blaze was in progress several other fires occurred in different sections. No serious damage was done.

BEARD MUST DIE

Ironton, O., July 18.—Judge Thoma, overruled a motion for a new trial on the Harley Beard murder case. Beard is sentenced to die Oct. 13 for the murder of three members of the Masie family at Greasyridge, this county, May 13.

conditions were, wrote him a formal letter in which he said: "Two regiments of soldiers are ready now to move, but they will not proceed with my orders under the present conditions."

These conditions were that the sheriff, because he had no funds to hire deputies, had accepted the refusal of 300 citizens to serve, whereas he has power to arrest any citizen refusing to serve, and that he had not made a single arrest for rioting.

The governor informed him that he had the right to call upon mayors for aid and significantly requests him to report if Mayor M. R. Nichols of Bellaire should not heed such a request. The governor has power to remove mayors and sheriffs.

Major Harold M. Bush, commanding the First battalion of field artillery, is investigating the strike conditions at Bellaire for the governor. The Fourth regiment of Columbus and the Second, which is in camp at Indianapolis, are ready to entrain for Bellaire if orders are issued.

SULZER POKES AT ROOSEVELT

New York, July 18.—The plan of the Progressives to permit William Sulzer to go back to congress from his old district and thus keep him from running for governor and cutting into the independent vote was announced by Mr. Sulzer himself. He not only said that he would not return to congress for anybody, but that he was going to throw himself into the Progressive primaries as a candidate for governor and "no power on earth" could stop him. Moreover, he predicted that either he or the Republican nominee would be elected. Last Saturday Sulzer said he would not run for governor if Colonel Roosevelt did. Their friendship was too close to permit of anything like that. Now Mr. Sulzer has changed his mind. "Colonel Roosevelt's attitude," he said, "shows that he is playing into the hands of Charles F. Murphy."

TO CAUCUS FOR JONES

Chicago Man Urged to Answer the Majority Report.

Washington, July 18.—Democrats of the senate banking and currency committee who favor confirmation of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago as a member of the federal reserve board have telegraphed Mr. Jones, urging him to answer the report of the majority of the committee, which opposed his confirmation on the ground that he is a director of the International Harvester company, which is under indictment for violation of the Sherman act.

Administration senators continued their efforts to change the minds of some of their colleagues who have expressed opposition to Mr. Jones. It was reported that their efforts thus far had not met with much success. There was considerable informal talk among senators of the advisability of a Democratic caucus on the Jones case, inasmuch as the president earnestly desires his confirmation.

REED'S WITTY THRUST.

It Silenced For the Time the "Great Objector," Holman.

There are many stories of the caustic wit of Thomas B. Reed, the famous speaker of the house of representatives. One of his most amusing thrusts was delivered at William S. Holman, a member of congress from Indiana. It was perhaps the keenest witticism ever uttered in debate on the floor of the house.

Holman was a constant objector to the expenditure of money by congress and had honestly earned the title of "Watchdog of the Treasury." One day, when the committee was perfunctorily putting through a number of bills for the erection of government buildings in various cities, Holman was constantly on his feet, objecting to their consideration. But when Indiana was reached and the committee began to propose appropriations for buildings in the towns of that state Holman's objections came with much less spirit and finally ceased altogether. When at length a bill was offered that carried a generous appropriation for a building in Holman's own town, he rose and expressed hearty approval. Hardly had he taken his seat when Mr. Reed was on his feet. "Mr. Speaker!" he shouted; and then, in gently sentimental tones, he recited Byron's familiar lines:

"Tis sweet to hear the watchdog's honest bark Bay deep mouthed welcome as we draw near home!"

And the "great objector" forgot to object any more that day!—Youth's Companion.

THEY PLAYED MARBLES.

One Street Game in Which Lincoln Took a Hand.

An elderly gentleman now residing in Washington tells this story about Abraham Lincoln:

"I was about ten years of age and given violently to the game of marbles. One cold March day my companions and I were playing on the sidewalk before my father's shop when I slipped on a piece of ice and fell, cutting my chin. The other boys seized as many of my marbles as they could and made off. Wild with anger, I started after them, calling them names and threatening to annihilate them, and so on. Suddenly a hand on my collar stopped me, and a deep voice said:

"We've got enough ill feeling going on in this country these days without you boys catching it!"

"A big man swung me around and wiped my wounded chin and then went on:

"I saw what they did, son. Have you any agates left? Good! I'll put up three chinny alleys, and we'll see who'll win."

"He drew from his pocket three marbles.

"I got them from my boy Tad," he explained, and then I knew who he was.

"There on the street I played marbles with the president for five minutes, and he let me win. Here are the marbles—a precious possession!"—Exchange.

He Whistled to the Queen.

There is a resident of Sunbury who will feel uncomfortable in his mind for a long time to come. He was walking behind two women in the park, when he noticed the younger of them drop her handkerchief. He picked it up and, to attract the owner's attention, whistled loudly as he ran to restore it.

The owner thanked him politely. Afterward, to his confusion, he learned he had been whistling to the queen and Princess Mary.—London cable to New York Times.

The Tower of Lions.

Just outside the Syrian port of Tripoli, lying alongside the railway track, is a famous old fort, known as the Tower of the Lions, from the tradition that it was built by Richard the Lion Hearted of England. As a matter of fact, it is one of six such forts built by the crusaders to protect the coast, only one other of which exists, and this one is in a poor condition. Now the Tower of Lions is to be demolished to make room for the railway, much to the discomfort of archaeologists, who would like to see this old tower preserved as a relic of antiquity.—Scientific American.

Over 3,000 Candy Makers

Are turning out Ohio candy, in one hundred and fourteen candy factories of the state. And candy making is by no means a leading industry of Ohio. Do you know what the biggest factories of the state ARE making, and how many men it takes to keep them going? How many proprietors, how many clerks, and how many wage earners? It is interesting to read about, and it might be pretty useful, too. You must do business, directly or indirectly, with some of those factories, and their industry concerns you.

Our OHIO ALMANAC, just issued for 1914, tells you all about the manufacturing business of Ohio, the business of farming, the schools, the religious organizations, the population, the platforms of the various political parties, the officials of the state and the counties, and about 100,000 other interesting facts about your state. Useful bits of information they are, too, that would cost you hundreds of dollars in time and cash to find out for yourself if we had not gathered it all together for you.

And we sell it to you for 25c at our office, or 30c by mail, postpaid.

PITCHERS
21 INNINGS

Pittsburgh, July 18.—Marquard and Adams were the figures in a ball game which attained the rare length of twenty-one full innings and which the Giants won by a score of 3 to 1. The New York pitcher and the Pittsburgh pitcher were the central figures because from the time the game began until the Giants hammered home a victory three hours and forty minutes later, they, the duellists, both pitched with fine style, courage and stamina. The game was one of the best pitching struggles in the history of the sport and will so be rated. The work of both Marquard and Adams was not affected in the least by fissures in the defense. New York won in the twenty-first, when Bescher's single was followed by a home run drive by Doyle. Score:

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, July 18.

Nothing is being left undone by Manager Herzog and the Cincinnati club to build up the Reds for a hot finish this season, and to create a nucleus for a pennant-aspiring aggregation next year. The fact that the local management has invested $15,000 in players during the past week, securing Outfielder Twombly, and Shortstop Derrick from Baltimore for this amount, and subsequently trading Derrick to Chicago for First Baseman Mollwitz. Later in the week the club purchased "Tex" Erwin from Brooklyn to help out in the catching department, Tom Clarke, who has been the team's mainstay behind the bat since McLean was disposed of, being laid up with a broken finger. Other trades and purchases are contemplated by the club with the idea of landing in the first division this season, if the right material can be secured.

Manager Herzog has placed himself on record as being opposed to allowing sentiment to dictate the policy of the Reds. "It's fine to show appreciation of the work of a player," declared Buck the other day, "but that mustn't prevent benching a player or getting another man in his place when he weakens. The first duty of a base ball club is to give high class sport to its patrons. In order to do this it is impossible to carry men on the strength of their past reputation. A club must have the men who can deliver the goods now, and when those in the line-up fail to do this, there is but one alternative—to get players who will deliver. We will continue to add men to the Reds' roster until we have a line-up that does things every day, instead of spasmodically. We're getting pretty close to that condition now, and once we arrive there we'll go right through with cinching a place among the first four."

As the present series of East vs. West progresses, the race in the National League is tightening up considerably. New York has been coming back since the present series began, while Boston, at the other end of the string, has been coming forward, there being less than 200 points between the leaders and the tailenders. This is an extraordinary condition at this time of year, and indicates that the teams in the National are more evenly matched than ever before. The surprise of the season, next to the good showing of the Reds and the Cardinals, has been the failure of the Pittsburghs to strike the gait predicted for them, their present position—seventh place—being out of proportion to their supposed strength. Boston has hoped of overtaking the Pirates before the present western invasion is over, and promises to use the Reds for a stepping stone in the coming series, which includes a game next Sunday, July 19, when one or more new men will be found in the Reds' line-up.

With a prospect of losing every player who has jumped a contract to join the new organization, and with gate receipts amounting to little or nothing, except in Baltimore and Chicago, the Federal League looks like a forlorn hope. With injunctions pending against Chief Johnson, Armando Marsans and Hal Chase, and others in prospect, so that the men who have jumped draw no salaries, it is certain that the "rubber-logging" is about over. It would be surprising to see the new league stick out the season, and if it does, it will require radical reorganization to put it in the running for another season.

With a punch that is said to be only sufficiently stiff to break a weak egg, Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, secured the decision over Billy Ritchie, who claimed the world's championship. It wasn't a knock-out affair—simply a decision on points at the end of twenty rounds in view of the fact that Charlie White, recently gave Ritchie quite a beating in Milwaukee, there is hope that the title will come back to America before long, and that a wallop, more than ability to do tango steps all over the ring, will decide the winner.

Looks as if the Hereshoff model would again win out in the fight for the honor of representing the United States in the races for the America's Cup next month. The Resolute, designed by Hereshoff, who built practically all the cup defenders in recent years, is sailing rings around the Vanitie and the Defiance in the official tests now taking place off Newport, and the indications are that unless something happens to the Resolute, she'll be the best for the tug-of-war with Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV. The Irish boat, by the way, is about ready to start across the pond, and will arrive in time to get acquainted with American conditions before going in for the battle that will decide whether the old silver mug, that has been at stake between the two countries for over half a century, will remain on this side or be carried over to Merrie, England.

NURSED A HOT TEMPER.

Something Had to Give Way When William Morris Broke Loose.

Though explosive tempers may not be admirable and temperamental explosions are not always harmlessly expended, they are always preferable to soreness, sullenness, brooding resentment or cold anger. Arthur Compton-Rickett in his study of William Morris—that "jolly vivid man," as he terms him—relates several new instances of Morris' violent thunderclaps of temper and swiftly ensuing sullenness and sweetness.

Once while he was painting he was called from the room, and presently his startled model heard him furiously anathematizing some one outside whom he dismissed or ejected and then returned a moment later still boiling with wrath. He could not resume his work, but made wild dashes about the room, growling and muttering, until at last in a culminating access of rage he took a flying kick at the door and with a vast crashing and splintering smashed in a panel. It was too much for his model's nerves, and he started to flee, but at that moment Morris, with his ire entirely gone now that the explosion was over, turned with a beaming smile, and assured him genially: "It's all right, it's all right, but something had to give way!"

FLAVOR OF FOOD.

It is an Important Factor in Digestion and Good Health.

If it were not for flavor we should not digest our food properly. Epicureanism in eating is the handmaid of good health. Flavor has been called the soul of food. The viands that are most agreeable to our sense of taste, those we enjoy most, are those we are most likely to digest well and from which we are most likely to derive the maximum of nourishment.

A book was devoted to this subject by Henry T. Flink of New York. He called it "Food and Flavor." In a review of it the Scientific American says: "The psychic factor of desire must precede ingestion or results will be unpropitious. To each cent spent for nutriment we add five more for flavor. Flavor, in short, has an appetizing value, a health value, a commercial value. "The evolution of a discriminating appetite and the education of the cook must go hand in hand. But your glutton is never an epicure. Rational mastication must accompany the highest enjoyment of food, and in this enjoyment lie perfect assimilation and health. It is flavor that stimulates the flow of the digestive juices; it is the digestive juices that prepare the food for the extraction of nutriment."

The Professor Was Wrong.

Several decades ago a learned professor delivered a course of lectures, in one of which he proved to his own satisfaction that the Atlantic ocean could never be crossed by steam. Steam power had been discovered and applied on land, but he was confident it could never be applied to the ocean. Under the peculiar conditions of the heaving tides, the danger of storms, the rolling of the tide, and so forth you could never apply steam to navigation across the Atlantic. The book in which that lecture was published was on the first steamer that crossed the Atlantic. The captain took it along as a sort of curiosity. That book did not have a very large sale, but there has been quite a run of steamers ever since, and the professor ceased to argue that steam could not be utilized on the ocean.—Christian Herald.

Salting One's Smoke.

The strangest way of taking his salt was probably Dr. Parr's. Telford records that he used to fill his pipe half with the finest tobacco and half with salt. After that it is not very surprising to learn that he smoked "with a philosophical calmness." On one occasion when the two met Charles Lamb's furious smoking of the strongest tobacco filled Dr. Parr with astonishment. Gently laying down his pipe, he inquired how Lamb had arrived at his power of smoking at such a rate. "I toiled after it, sir, as some men toil after virtue," was Lamb's reply.—London Graphic.

Diamonds found on the pair at the time of their arrest, it is said, have been identified as part of jewels valued at $14,000 which were stolen in Huntington last March.

According to word received from West Virginia two men, alleged to be Robinson and Duddy, entered the jewelry store of H. W. Homrich, in the main business district of Huntington, and held up the clerks with revolvers. The two men escaped with a tray of diamonds valued at $14,000.

FACED FOUR LIONS.

Coolness and Daring of a Plucky Kaffir Herdboy.

Four lions attacked a herd of cattle on a farm at Romsey, South Africa, says the Rhodesia Herald. The herdboy was standing on an ant heap examining a pair of boots he had got the day previous, when he heard a low growl near him. On looking up he saw that three lions had got hold of three cows, while another lion stood looking on.

The boy pulled off his boots and threw them at the nearest lion, and then made a rush for them with a stick, shouting at the same time at the top of his voice to another herdboy to bring a gun.

In the meantime two lions had got their cows down, but nothing daunted, the Kaffir made a rush for them, and the lions moved away from their prey. The boy then rounded up his cattle (he had 108 head), and while he was doing so had to chase the lions away several times. When he was at one side the lions would try to catch the cattle on the other. However, he brought all his cattle safely home, though one of the cows afterward died, the claw of a lion having penetrated her lung.

For cool daring it would be hard to beat the chasing of four lions single handed and with no weapons except a pair of boots and a stick.

LEARNING HOW TO UNLEARN.

Modern Scientists Harking Back to Thales of Miletus.

When we were young and knew without doubt that the molecule was composed of two or three ultimate parts, called atoms, we listened complacently to the statement that "science progresses in a straight line, philosophy around in a circle, or at best along a helical spiral." Now that we are older and believe that the simplest atom has nearly 1,800 parts, we find that perhaps the helix is expressive of science as well, observes the editor of the Engineering and Mining Journal.

We believe, with the alchemists, that the so called elements are fundamentally the same. Whether we will transmute one to another remains to be seen; we follow the alchemists in attempting it.

Were one of the Greek philosophers, Thales of Miletus, for instance, to stroll into a modern assembly of physicists and chemists, the language would be more troublesome than the ideas. He would hear the physical chemist remarking cheerfully that there is no matter, for that which we call matter is only energy, and Thales would remark, "Plagiarist." The disciples of relatively, the ultra modern physicists, would tell him that space and time are one, and Thales would sigh to think of his boyish debates.

"Why don't you go to the doctor with that cold?"

"Can't afford it."

"You buy a pair of shoes when you need them?"

"Yes, and that ends the transaction. The doctor keeps telling me to come again."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
